Gen. Van Fleet Sees Trouble Ahead In Asia

Korean Armistice Labeled As 'Shame' By Famed Commander

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet, denouncing the armistice in Korea as one of political expediency, says the United States has failed to capitalize on free world strength in the Far East and faces the strong possibility of a catastrophe in Asia.

"Our real strength in the Far East rests in Korea, Formosa, the Philippines and Japan," Van Fleet said. "Southeast Asia has little to offer in either military or moral strength."

"But in the eastern area of strength, we have (1) prevented Japan from rearming, (2) isolated the government of the Republic of China and (3) immobilized our power in Korea by an armistice."

"So now Red China, with complete immunity in the north and east, is free to (1) consolidate within, (2) move south against weakness and (3) talk tough at any and all conferences."

Van Fleet, former commander of the 8th Army in Korea, recently returned from a presidential mission to Korea.

IN DENOUNCING the armistice in Korea as one of political expediency, Van Fleet said the loss of Korea and Indochina to the Communists would mean that they would "irresistibly overflow" Japan, Formosa, Thailand, Burma and the Philippines "probably without firing a mortar."

He added: "Once the free world is shut off from these priceless raw materials what hope remains for the Middle East, for Africa or for Europe or for us? As a soldier I can only admire the brilliant simplicity of their battle chart."

Van Fleet termed the Korean armistice a profound mistake which "the American people should greet with a sense of shame."

Thousands Strike At Atomic Plant

WAVERLY (AP)—Thousands of workers walked off their jobs today at the atomic energy plant in Pike County after a work stoppage by five AFL building trades unions.

A spokesman for Peter Kiewit and Sons Co., prime contractor, said more than 4,000 workers did not report to work. A union official said the number was 9,000.

The union spokesman said the strike was unauthorized and that the men probably would be ordered back to work. Strikers belong to the pipefitters, electricians, iron workers, carpenters and millwrights unions. The union said Goodyear Atomic Corp. non-union employees are taking over the construction work. Goodyear is contracted by the government to operate the plant.

Industrialist Dies

CINCINNATI (AP)—Edwin L. Ryan, 73, of Cincinnati, president of the Middletown Hydraulic Co., died after a stroke yesterday in Atlantic City.

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

Less than a half century ago Fayette County's highways were nothing but gravel, which sent up clouds of dust during dry weather and frequently were cut through and through during spring thaws. They were barely wide enough to permit two horse drawn vehicles to pass and invariably the roads carried considerable crown to aid in drainage.

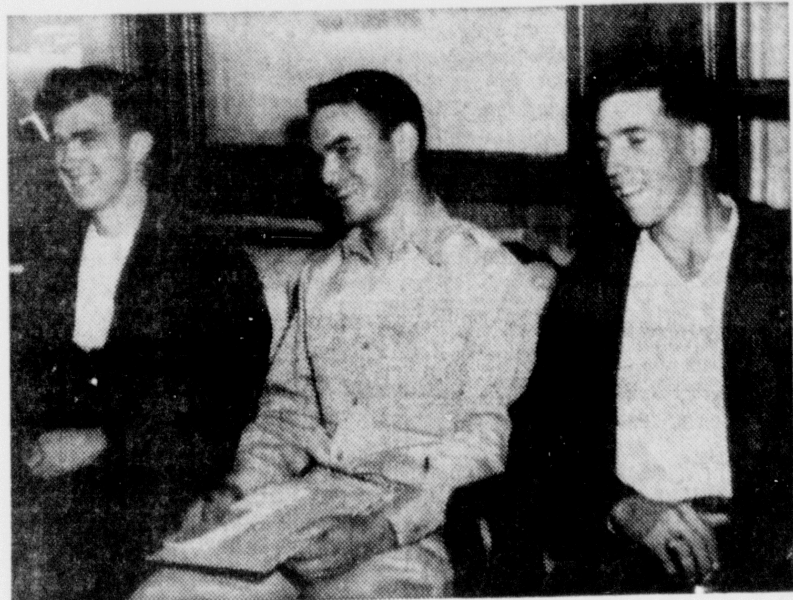

The gravel was not too thick and it was necessary for each taxpayer to either give so much time each year to working the roads or pay the money for someone else to work them.

That was in the days of the poll tax and was just about the only way the highways could be maintained.

In the still earlier days the roads were nothing more or less than plain earth, but when the huge supply of gravel, dumped here by the glacier, was tapped, the roads were largely lifted out of the mud. It has not been many years since the last of the mud roads were converted into hard surface roads. Years ago it was highly important to reside on an improved road.

Now all of the main highways are highly important commercial thoroughfares, with great numbers of huge trucks and automobiles roaring over them daily. Persons who resided close to these main highways a half century ago never dreamed of the terrific roar of motor vehicles which now makes living on main highways more or less of a headache. So much for progress!

Adenauer Popularity Fades In German State Elections

KIEL, Germany (AP)—A political rip tide menaced Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his pro-American foreign policy today as his Socialist foes merged as the strongest party in a key state election.

Although the coalition headed by Adenauer's Christian Democratic Union appeared sure of holding control of the government in the Soviet Zone frontier state of Schleswig-Holstein, the Socialists' 12,000 vote lead in yesterday's balloting was seen as a clearcut exposure of the old leader's suddenly dwindling popularity.

The rural state, called the "poor house of the Bonn Republic," rebuffed the 78-year-old Chancellor's plea for a vote of confidence in electing his new Lantag (state Parliament).

Campaigning for overtures to Russia to unify East and West Germany, the Socialists outscored the Christian Democrats in the same state that accorded the CDU a 2-1 margin over its arch rival last year when Adenauer was re-elected Chancellor.

In today's final count, the CDU trailed the Socialists 384,870 to 396,798.

THE CDU'S VOTE was cut almost in half from its 1953 peak of 637,570 in Schleswig-Holstein. The Socialists picked up 38,269 votes over last year's total of 357,798. Adenauer fought to save his in (Please Turn to Page Two)

Home Builders Meet Tonight

Residential Areas To Be Discussed

The Home Builders Association of Southwestern Ohio, which was organized in Washington C. H. last month, is to meet at the Washington Lumber Co. Monday (tonight) at 8 P. M. to hear a native of Washington C. H. who now lives in Columbus, explain some of the procedures of financing and developing residential subdivisions.

James Renick Allen, a Washington C. H. High School product, who is now connected with the Kissell Co. of Columbus, a real estate mortgage brokerage firm, is to appear before the builders and their associates in the industry here.

Allen, a retired army colonel, was in the plumbing supply business in Columbus before he entered the service. He has many relatives in Fayette County.

Don Wood, the president of the association, said that when the word went out Allen was to discuss residential subdivision development at the meeting word was received that home builders and building material suppliers in several cities were planning to attend.

Clifford St. Clair, executive vice president of the Ohio Home Builders Association, is coming to the meeting here and that delegations from Lancaster and Circleville also will be here Wood said.

WOOD SAID that Allen had told him that his discussion would center principally on subdivision developments of 20 or more homes.

Wood commented that residential areas are needed in Washington C. H. and that indications are that any sizeable development would have to be outside the city limits and that usually such areas appeal for annexation by the city to take advantage of the services available in the municipality.

DUES for membership in the expanding association have been set at $40 a year, of which $6 goes to the state association and $20 to the national association.

Eligible for membership are home builders, but the ranks are bolstered by associate members, such as material suppliers and real estate brokers and financial backers. The dues are the same for both members and associate members, Wood said.

Robber Asks Cops To Be Locked Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—A former Wheeling, W. Va., man surrendered to police last night and was quoted as saying he wanted to be locked up so he would commit no more robberies.

The man was Melvin L. Jordan, 26, an unemployed laborer with a wife and three small children.

His wife, Jeannette, 22, said Jordan "pawed the television set, my luggage and our furniture to play the horses."

Jordan was not charged immediately, but police said he told them he took $11 from a cab driver, $7.50 from a drug store and $45 from a beverage company.

Californian Crowned As Miss America

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A long-stemmed beauty from California, in the crown and robes of a queen, embarks today on a year-long whirlwind tour as the 1955 Miss America.

Nineteen-year-old Lee Ann Meriwether of San Francisco, who wants to be an actress and says there's no special boy friend in her life, is modest about her figure. But the pageant judges, who selected her from among 49 other chameleons Saturday night, were more enthusiastic over Lee's measurements — which shape up this way: Bust 34½, waist 22 and hips 35.

Yesterday, Lee confided that she didn't think she'd give Marilyn Monroe much competition and that the new "flat" look by Dior "came just in time to save me."

One of her first thoughts was of her late father, Gregg Meriwether, who died last July. In a tearful speech of thanks, Lee glanced toward the high ceiling of the hall and said quietly: "Daddy, I hope you know and I hope you're proud."

She said her father "wanted me to go to Stanford and be an actress."

But there wasn't enough money for Stanford, so Lee went to the City College of San Francisco. Money now won't pose too much of a problem, for Lee will receive about $40,000 in public appearance fees, in addition to a new car, furs, jewelry and other prizes. All told, winnings total $60,000.

Hong Kong Awaits 3 Freed Yankees

HONG KONG (AP)—A United States consulate official said today three Americans, ordered deported from Red China after more than a year in Communist captivity, would not arrive here today.

The three are Richard Applegate, 37, of Medford, Ore., a National Broadcasting Co. correspondent; Donald Dixon, 25, New York International News Service correspondent and Benjamin Krasner, 30, a sea captain, of Brooklyn.

The U. S. official said there was no indication when the trio would arrive.

Peiping Radio said Hugh Redmond, former New York businessman, had been convicted of espionage in Shanghai and sentenced to life in prison.

Dayton Area's 'Hard Core' Of Reds Claimed To Be 25

Ike's 2 Goals: Defend Chiang, Clean Out Reds

Question Of Quemoy Island Studied By Top Security Council

DENVER (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles, fresh from global strategy conferences with President Eisenhower and the National Security Council, says American military might will thwart any Chinese Communist assault against Nationalist Formosa.

And FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover and Atty. Gen. Brownell say that so far as the Red threat on the home front is concerned, the administration's goal is to "utterly destroy the Communist party" in the United States.

They reported a new drive toward that objective is well underway and that some Communists, spurred by a new law granting immunity from prosecution, have been telling the FBI about activities of fellow conspirators.

Dulles, Hoover and Brownell made those statements at news conferences at the summer White House yesterday after conferring with the President.

Then Eisenhower, Dulles, Vice President Nixon and other members of the National Security Council met for three hours for top secret discussion of the Communist menace abroad, particularly in the Far East.

DULLES HINTED in advance of that meeting that the council might reach a decision as to precise U. S. policy on the question of whether American defense of the Nationalist island of Quemoy is essential to defense of Formosa.

Dulles told newsmen that "in the first instance" that is a question for America's military chiefs to decide. He added that Eisenhower and the other non-military members of the Security Council would study the advice of the armed forces leaders, but would not necessarily follow it.

Eisenhower presumably has been advised by the military that (Please Turn to Page Two)

Enraged Edna Kills 19 In New England

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—Washed-out highways, railroad tracks and crops lay like a jagged wound today across territory raked by death-dealing hurricane Edna from Massachusetts to Nova Scotia.

The cost in lives mounted to 19, eight in Maine alone, where autos were trapped in road washouts by streams that went wild under a record eight inches rain.

Maine Gov. Burton M. Cross after an air survey set loss there at more than $7 million, on top of $10 million wrought 12 days before by hurricane Carol. Cross asked President Eisenhower to declare Maine a disaster area.

Two-third of Nova Scotia's $4 million apple crop was lost. All of Maine's dead were drowned victims. Four persons perished in Massachusetts, one in Connecticut, another in Nova Scotia. Six highway fatalities in New York state were attributed to the Hurricane.

Southern New England, braced for devastation reminiscent of the 1938 hurricane, was spared heavy property damage and even in the areas hardest hit water, not wind, was blamed for much of the destruction.

Meanwhile, hurricane Florence, sixth tropical storm of the year, broke up as it moved inland on the Mexican coast yesterday.

Ohio Ag Census Aides Selected

WASHINGTON (AP)—Appointment of supervisors for the 1954 census of agriculture in Ohio has been announced.

E. Howard Frowine of Findlay will supervise an office to be established in Findlay; and Morgan C. Raber, Chippewa Lake, will head the Cleveland office.

The work will require about four months. Supervisors will be paid at the rate of about $5,000 a year, assistants at the rate of about $4,000 a year.

General 'Following Orders' In Peress Discharge Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, testifying before the Senate committee considering censure charges against Sen. McCarthy, insisted today he was acting under explicit orders when he handled an honorable discharge for Maj. Irving Peress, the Army dentist McCarthy has described as a Fifth Amendment Communist.

He also declared he could not recall ever having called McCarthy a "S.O.B." The testimony came soon after an Army medical officer declared he heard McCarthy call Zwicker a "Fifth Amendment general."

One of the censure charges against McCarthy is that he abused

Zwicker in questioning the general last Feb. 18 in New York City about the Peress case. McCarthy was acting then as chairman of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee.

His conflict with Zwicker has been headlined throughout the censure hearings and was one of the fuses which set off the McCarthy-Army dispute and the recent hearings on that controversy.

WILLIAM HARDING, a New York City salesman, told the censure hearings last week he was a spectator at the February hearing by McCarthy into the Peress case. Harding swore that during an open morning session, he heard Zwicker mutter that the senator was an "S. O. B."

Asked about this today, as the committee began what may be its final day of public hearings, Zwicker said that after hearing Harding's testimony, "I searched my memory carefully and I have no recollection of making any such remark."

Before Zwicker took the witness chair, an Army medical officer, Capt. William J. Woodward, testified that during the February hearing he heard McCarthy say in an aside that Zwicker was the "first Fifth Amendment general we've had before us."

Zwicker was the commanding general at Camp Kilmer, N. J., where Peress received his discharge.

The Fifth Amendment to the Constitution says a witness cannot be compelled to testify against himself.

There were indications, meanwhile, that difficulties may arise in getting a full Senate to return before the Nov. 2 elections to vote on a resolution by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) calling on the Senate to censure McCarthy.

In advance of today's hearing, Sen. Murray (D-Mont.) said he has no intention of quitting campaigning to come back to Washington for a vote.

"They will have to get a couple of policemen to bring me back here," Murray said before he left for Montana. "With all of the grave problems that are confronting the country, it is perfectly silly to be spending time arguing about McCarthy's conduct."

Murray, who has been critical of McCarthy in the past, said he thinks he and other candidates for reelection "have a lot more important things to talk about" than whether the Wisconsin senator's actions have tended to bring the Senate into disrepute.

THERE WAS NO indication how many other candidates share Murray's attitude, but Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said he thinks enough senators will be willing to return to decide the issue by a "substantial" vote.

McClellan, who criticized McCarthy and others in a report on the McCarthy-Army controversy, said he believes any recommendations that may be made by the inquiry committee headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) will have great influence on the Senate. He said:

"The members of this committee are regarded with great respect by the Senate."

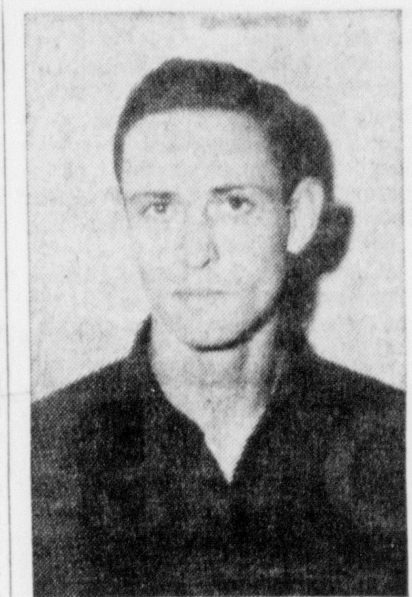

Watkins said that once the hearings have ended, the committee will start work immediately on its report.

He said there had been no decision yet on whether the report will include specific recommendations to the Senate. Unless it does recommend action, some senators said, it will be difficult to get Senate members to return before the Nov. 2 election.

First Degree Murder Charges Face Southward

First degree murder charges were filed Saturday noon, against John Walter Southward, 24, held for killing his wife with a shotgun.

Mrs. Southward's father, Samuel Coil, Sr. filed the charges.

John Walter Southward

It was expected that Southward's case would go directly before the grand jury without the formality of binding him over, since his hearing was fixed for later this week.

Attorney James Britt, represents Southward. He is a well known attorney who has been retained in a number of criminal cases in Columbus over a period of years.

The first degree murder charge was changed from the original charge of second degree murder prepared by Prosecutor John S. Bath. The prosecutor stated that the shift to the first degree murder charge was made following newly discovered evidence. It was not indicated what the new evidence was.

Boy, 12, Tells Of Killing His 'Mean' Father

ZANESVILLE (AP)—Police said sixth grader David Larry Ingles, 12, admitted shooting his father to death yesterday after coming home from Sunday school.

Chief George Hodgson and Muskingum County Prosecutor Joseph McNeerney said David in a signed statement admitted he had planned for weeks to kill his father, John Ingles, 36-year-old handyman, because "Dad was mean to me. He threatened me and mother a thousand times."

Chief Hodgson said the statement gave this account of the shooting: David came into the house while his father was alone and in bed. He took a .22 caliber target pistol, decorated with imitation gems, from a hiding place and shot once but missed his father.

"What are you doing?" the father asked.

"I'm going to kill you," David said he told his father. The statement quoted David as saying, "when my finger was on the trigger I couldn't stop shooting. I don't know how many times I shot."

The father staggered from his bed and grabbed David's ankles. The boy fired again.

Coroner S. S. Daw said the last shot followed the right shoulder blade into Ingles' heart.

Hodgson, who described David as an ardent comic book fan, said the boy wore a cap gun holster under his shirt while the statement was being prepared.

Mrs. Southward died in Grant Hospital Friday evening following an operation in connection with the big wound in her left shoulder and chest that was inflicted by the blast from a shotgun which was in the hands of her husband at the time.

Southward maintains that he had obtained the gun to frighten his wife, that they had patched up their differences and he was in the act of lifting the gun up when it was discharged accidentally.

In a death bed statement, according to Prosecutor Bath, Mrs. Southward stated that her husband had shot her intentionally. She had told police the same thing soon after the shooting.

The shooting occurred Wednesday at 4 A. M. at the Southward home on West Oak Street.

Family Buys Shoes: 19 Pair Of Them

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When the Louis Breault family went to the store for new shoes, they got 19 pair — one for each member of the family.

Shoe merchants donated $250 worth of brogans as a sales promotion highlight.

At the store Mrs. Yvette Breault counted noses.

"We've never gone shopping like this before — all together," she said. "I'm afraid someone will get lost or left behind."

Mrs. Breault, 41, said she and her husband, 55, came here as newlyweds from Montreal 25 years ago. All of their 10 girls and 7 boys were born here. The children range in age from 24 years to 8 months.

Handpicked GOP Grand Jury Rapped By Democrat Mayor

COLUMBUS (AP)—Democratic Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner in a television show yesterday accused a Republican judge of loading the grand jury that reported "wide open" gambling in four Columbus spots.

Mayor Sensenbrenner asked his audience: "Do you think 13 Republicans handpicked on the grand jury would be fair to a little Democratic mayor?"

Common Pleas Judge Joseph M. Harter admitted they were handpicked, declaring:

"I put people on I could trust implicitly, that I knew. The appointments were not on a political basis. They were people who were financially independent, not beholden to anybody."

The judge said it was "logical" most of the 15 jurors were Republicans. "The majority of people I work with are essentially Republicans," he said.

SENSENBRENNER, a native of Circleville and the first Democratic mayor here in 20 years, heads a Republican city council. The council initiated the gambling probe and turned its report over to the grand jury.

After a long session, the grand jury last Friday returned three indictments. It had investigated gambling reports in Columbus and charges of graft in the state liquor department.

The jury recommended that Ohio Liquor Director Anthony Rutkowski be replaced, declaring in a statement prepared for the jury by the Franklin County prosecutor's office:

"This grand jury is forced unanimously to a denunciation of the practices of the Department of Liquor Control under Anthony A. Rutkowski, both as chief of enforcement and later as director of the Department of Liquor Control."

"Whether it should be upon the basis of actual participation in these wrongdoings or in being so naive as not to attempt to put an end to it once it has been called to his attention, is the only question."

"This grand jury can have no confidence in his continued operation of this department."

Rutkowski had no comment other than saying he served "at the pleasure of the governor."

Gov. Frank J. Lausche continued support of Rutkowski, said: "Rutkowski has been an honest, fearless public official. His whole public career has been devoted to a fight against rackets, corruptions and vice. The underworld is full of figures bearing deep hostility to him."

Former FBI Agent Outlines Party's Work

4 Clevelanders Named As Chiefs of Ohio Branch of Organization

DAYTON (AP)—A German-born former FBI agent who spent eight years in Communist ranks testified today there was a hard core of 25 active "quality" Communists in the Dayton area during the period ending in 1952.

The first witness before a subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee was Arthur Strunk, 58, who said he joined the Communist party in 1944 at the FBI's request.

He identified soon after the hearing opened four Cleveland men as leaders of the Ohio Communist party as he knew it. He says they were Arnold Johnson, Joe Brant, Gus Hall and Martin Chaucery.

Strunk was unmasked some months ago when his testimony was used to help convict E. Melvin Hupman of Villars Chapel and Walter Lowman of Dayton of false statements in their anti-Communist affidavits under the Taft-Hartley law.

His testimony then was limited largely to the Hupman and Lowman cases. Today he faced a subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee, and his testimony presumably was to be permitted to cover the entire field of reported Communist activity in the Dayton area.

That area includes the village of Yellow Springs in which Antioch College is located.

Rep. Gordon Scherer, Cincinnati Republican who heads the subcommittee, stressed in an opening statement at today's hearing that congressional interest in alleged subversion in the Dayton — Yellow Springs area had its origin in a number of complaints from residents of the area.

OTHER COMMITTEE members are Reps. Kit Clardy (R-Mich.) and Francis Walter (D-Pa.). Frank Tavenner was the committee counsel examining witnesses.

Referring to witnesses at past hearings who have refused to answer questions, claiming constitutional immunity from self incrimination, Scherer said: "The committee has always felt that in the great majority of cases, witnesses have improperly hidden behind the Fifth Amendment."

Recalling that the House Un-American Activities Committee long has favored passage of an immunity law and noting with satisfaction that the recent Congress passed it, Scherer pointed out the Dayton hearing is the first since the new law went into effect.

"It is possible," he added, "that the committee may use it for the first time during these hearings."

Scherer explained the new law provides, among other things, that a congressional investigating committee, with the approval of a court, may grant immunity to a witness who invokes the Fifth Amendment when it is apparent that the witness possesses valuable evidence of subversion, espionage or treason. It may then compel him to testify.

Generally Cool Weather Hits U.S.

CHICAGO (AP)—It was generally cooler over the nation today, downright chilly in New England and other parts of the Northeast, and damp in the northern Midwest.

Mt. Washington, N. H., had an overnight low of 25 degrees, Phillipsburg, Pa., 34, and across the Great Lakes and Northern Plains most readings were in the 50s. The Western Plateau states had temperatures in the 40s.

Drizzle and light rain was reported from northern Michigan westward into the Dakotas.

Neal Sceva Wins Race Feature

Plenty of Wrecks Add to Excitement

Neal Sceva of Urbana was the big winner at the stock car races here Saturday night. He took the modified feature race in 5:50 and that tied the previous 20-lap record time set by Jack Boushner on Aug. 7. Sceva also posted the fastest of the evening when he circled the track in the fast time of 17:12 in the (Flash) Whetnall of Co. 7. He still holds the track record of 16:55.

Saturday night's races were fast and furious with thrills added by several wrecks and one run to the hospital. The wrecker was kept busy.

The boys were shooting for some extra loot and that was credited as making for better and more exciting racing.

Bob Carter of Dayton put up an extra $10 for the feature winner and a case of beverage for the trailer. Circle Enterprises, the promoter of the races, put up $10 for the fastest qualifying round.

Boy Scouts are this week conducting an advance ticket sale for next week's races. They get half of the reduced admission price. The money they take in is to go into the building fund.

SATURDAY night's races got off to an exciting start when Cannonball Baker failed to make the west turn and went shooting over the top. As the wrecker was on the way to tow him in, Baker continued under his own power around the outside of the track, through the pits and back onto the track.

In the same lap, Sonny Pensil hit the guard rail and Jack Butron hit a post. Elsie Whetnall also spun out in front of Quintin Butcher and Tom Gallant.

Results of the races were:
First—Whetnall, Sceva, Howard Branscomb and Charlie McCarthy. Ten laps; time 2:55.

Second—Butcher, Baker, Bill Hixon and Rogers Sowards. Ten laps; time 2:59.

Third—Dick Dunlevy, Pencil, John Czompi and Kenny McKittrick. Ten laps; time 3 minutes. Consie—Gallant, Chuck Brown, and Jack Burton. Ten laps; time 2:58.

Stock feature—Dave Walker, Eddie Parks, Chuck Linley, Phil Tatman, Emerick and Red Finley. Fifteen laps.

Modified feature—Sceva, Dunlevy, Whetnall, McCarthy, Branscomb, Brown and Butcher. Twenty laps and time 5:50.

Businessmen Hoping Stock Mart Behaves

September Is Month Financial Circles Frequently Crack

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen are especially hopeful today that the stock market will behave itself in the new few weeks.

Rightly or wrongly, sensibly or not, the broad direction that prices take on the stock exchange affects the take of the country's stores. Above all, it influences the planning of businessmen themselves for industrial expansion and production schedules.

The 25th anniversary of the big stock market break of 1929 is coming up, with all its memories. September is a month when prices often have cracked. Stock prices have been climbing for a year and are beginning to puff a little from the exertion.

The economy in general is in a delicate condition. Everyone seems confident of the approaching birth of better trade and industrial output. But public confidence, too, is a delicate thing.

Although the market may not have the hold on the popular imagination it once had, still when stock prices take the low road, people tend to lose confidence generally and turn tight in their spending—whether they own a share of stock or not.

But, while it's nervous, Wall Street points out that the present stock market boom hasn't run as long as the one that led to the 1929 crash. Nor have prices gained as much, percentage-wise.

The present bull market has been the product of a number of things: Expectation that business, after its year of adjustment to peacetime economy, should be ready for a healthy advance; stimulation by the current easy money policy; prospects of profits from tax cuts; and satisfaction in general with the policies of Washington.

The public apparently has come into the market only this summer, and in unimpressive numbers. From last September to May the stocks that climbed the farthest were in the high-priced bracket, appealing to the investment minded.

Since May 1 the stocks making the biggest percentage gains mostly have been the lower-priced shares, appealing more to those with slimmer pocketbooks and to those willing to take more of a chance. Many of the blue chips are now selling below their 1954 peaks.

Comparing today's situation with that of 25 years ago can be risky. Not only are conditions different on the stock market—higher margins, more institutional buying, and less speculative fever—but conditions in the economy in general are changed.

The Associated Press stock price index hit its high 25 years ago at $158, and dropped to $17 by July 1932. Today it is around $132.

But in comparing these figures, you must remember many things: the years of inflation that shriveled the purchasing power of the dollar; the big increase in the corporated, here, was injured in an accident at the plant Saturday evening and was taken to Memorial Hospital in the Gerstner ambulance for treatment.

number of stock issues and shares outstanding; and the great industrial growth of the nation.

The nation's total output has tripled in dollar volume in 25 years. Or, if you put the figures in terms of a constant dollar (valuing everything on the basis of the 1939 dollar) it has doubled.

There are 40 million more people now. The total of wages and salaries has swelled more than 250 percent. People have five times the total of personal savings. The average workman now earns about twice the amount in an hour that he could with 1929's plant and machinery.

Against this bigger America, present stock prices don't look as big as they would in 1929.

The prospects of a still bigger America keep the bulls snorting. But when the market turns hesitant, businessmen worry.

And this month and next there will be the added uncertainty of politics, while business waits to see what kind of a Congress will be elected in November.

International prestige with a speech in this state Friday in which he described NATO membership and unconditional German sovereignty as his new goals.

But as he talked with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden in Bonn yesterday on finding some way of rearming West Germany despite the French scuttling of the European Defense Community, the voters of this state showed their mounting discontent.

The Socialists elected 20 Landtag candidates to the CDU's 19 in direct contests. But a complicated system allotting 40 per cent of the parliament's 69 seats on a proportional basis gave the rival parties a final total of 25 seats each.

The Refugee party won 10 seats, the Free Democ 15, and the remaining 4 went to the SHB bloc formed by the German party and the Schleswig-Holstein community.

CDU Minister President Friedrich Wilhelm Lueke, whose forces have run the state since 1950 in partnership with the Refugee party, said today he would also invite the Free Democrats to join in a new government under his command. The Free Democrats already are Adenauer's partners in the national coalition government.

Lueke blamed the CDU's loss of strength on the French National Assembly's rejection two weeks ago of the European Army treaty, which Adenauer had promised would restore West Germany's sovereignty and rearm it.

they are confident Quemoy could be defended from any Red invasion attempt with U. S. sea and air power alone if there is a political decision for such intervention.

Military officials are reported to believe that any move by Red Chinese forces to land on Quemoy, hard by the Asiatic mainland, could be repelled without any help from American ground forces.

If a decision should be made to defend Quemoy, Pentagon strategists would rely on the gunfire and planes of the big 7th Fleet and the fighters and fighter-bombers of the Air Force.

The objective would be to crush the transportation and air and ground support of a Red invasion fleet before it could reach the shores of the Nationalist-held islands, not to attempt to match the Communist troop manpower in invasion beach battle.

THE UNITED STATES learned in Korea of the vast and costly commitment of ground force needed to fight Red China's hordes of infantry.

However, some of the other disadvantages of the Korean campaign might attend any action for the defense of Quemoy if the decision were made to confine it solely to defensive fighting.

Under the ground rules for the Korean War, no bombing of Red Air bases in China was permitted. Thus, the dangerously powerful Red air fleet of jet fighters had to be dealt with only in the air above the battle zone.

Meeting Held At Serpent Mound

Earthen Serpent Is In Warren County

A meeting of the Ohio Indian Relic Collectors Society was held all day Sunday with the Warren County Historical Society members as guests, at the large Serpent Mound located near the CCC Highway some two miles west of Morrow.

The purpose of the meeting was to better acquaint all members of both organizations with the big earthwork, which the Ohio Indian Relic Collectors Society is endeavoring to have converted into a public park to be preserved for posterity.

The Warren County Serpent Mound is on private property and is nearly as large as the Adams County Serpent Mound.

Dr. Lawrence E. Hicks, Columbus, president of the Ohio Indian Relic Collectors Society, presided over a short business session.

Dr. Hicks named B. E. Kelley, who with Mrs. Kelley, were in attendance, to give a history of the mound and conduct the large group on a tour of the earthwork which the Kelleys had visited and photographed 28 years ago before the earthwork was restored.

Other members of the serpent mound committee, which had compiled more than 300 pages of information regarding the mound, included, Dr. Leon Kramer, Columbus Earl C. Townsend, Jr., Indianapolis, Ind.; Philip K. L. t. z, Columbus Donald McBeth, Kingston; H. R. McPherson, Memphis, Tenn.; H. C. Wachtel, C. H. Kruger and Virgil Schaeffer, Dayton.

Most of these members accompanied the party and also gave information regarding the mound.

Plans were discussed for financing the purchase of the mound or acquiring it for a public park.

It was stated that so far the Ohio Historical Society, which operates many parks has not been interested in obtaining the earthwork.

Opinions On A Subject Of Unemployment

There are as many opinions on the subject of unemployment as there are experts. Nobody seems to be quite able to reconcile the divergent stories. Labor spokesmen sound as if everybody were out of work. Business statisticians sound entirely the opposite. Figures compiled by the Commerce Department indicate that factory operations held to a remarkably steady level throughout the summer months when there are normal declines. Inventories are getting lower in some important industries which usually means that a pick-up is on the way.

Out of the welter of confusing observations, many of which seem to be politically inspired with a sharp eye to the November elections, certain stable facts emerge. (1) The nation's employment force is at tremendously high levels; (2) Seasonal unemployment in some industries will certainly be succeeded in the autumn by a marked upturn, particularly in key organizations; (3) Money is in the hands of consumers as evidenced by the volume of savings, home building operations and the activities of the stock market.

If these combined factors do not add up to a healthy economy, the experts will have to turn in their sheepskins.

Looking Ahead

With the Brussels Conference on the European Defense Community a failure, the time may be near at hand when this country, in the words of Secretary of State Dulles, will have to make "an agonizing reappraisal" of its foreign policy. The Brussels Conference had vindicated the judgment of those who originally urged we not commit ourselves to the defense of Western Europe, or send American troops for that purpose, until the European countries to be defended first made definite commitments to cooperate. As a result of our lack of foresight, the billions of dollars already invested in the mutual defense of Europe may have been wasted, and the lives of some 400,000 American boys stationed there may be endangered. Granting full sovereignty to Western Germany, and a direct military alliance with that nation, may quickly become necessary. There is also considerable talk of the necessity for forming a new defense line against Communist aggression, running from the British Isles, thru Spain, to Northern Africa.

Many a man is sighing for the time when he can don a vest again and have plenty of pocket space.

He Finds Fortune In Tree Stumps

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Some people in America today make so much money the only way they can get rid of it is to hide it in trees.

Howard S. Choon is doing just the opposite. He's one of a number of men who are finding fortunes in old tree stumps.

He is pioneering in finding new uses for pine oil, found in cut-over yellow pine timberlands of the Deep South.

"The tree doesn't contain pine oil in its growing state," explained Choon. "It forms only in large stumps that have been in the ground for at least 20 years."

Once regarded as worthless, the stumps now are bulldozed or dynamited out of the ground, then undergo a process of steam distillation. The products they yield—including turpentine, paint solvents and resins, as well as pine oil—are now valued at about $600 million annually.

Pine oil is used to treat sprains, insect bites, minor cuts and head colds. It serves as a flotation agent in copper mining. It also is used in preservatives and perfumes.

But Choon has done as much as any man to popularize it as a household deodorant, cleanser and laundry aid. He has a simple goal—to make every home in America have a pine tree fragrance.

In 1948, Dumas Milner, a Jackson, Miss., investor, took over a small janitorial supply house. Its product, sold locally, did about a $77,000 a year business.

Looking about for someone to head the company, his eye fell on Choon, a former farmer but with a lot of experience in the soap selling field.

Choon took the job, but wasn't sure at first that he didn't have a lemon on his hands. The firm had only six employees — three men to make the product, three out trying to sell it.

"The first weeks I did nothing but talk to everybody I could find who knew anything about pine oil," he recalled. "Then I decided that our best market was the American housewife herself. Why wouldn't she prefer cleaning house with a fragrant-smelling substance instead of an evil-smelling one?"

Choon also improved his product by putting a detergent in it so that it would clean as well as deodorize. Then he set out to get national distribution.

"At first we were bottling and labeling by hand," he recalled.

"Then we got semiautomatic and, finally, fully automatic equipment."

In five years he sold 20 million bottles, now distributes it in every state and 11 foreign countries. He figures it is used in two out of every seven homes in this country.

The firm has become the world's largest user of pine oil. It does a multimillion dollar business each year. Choon estimates it will gross $10 million annually by 1958.

That's a lot of money, but what will happen if the South runs out of old pine stumps?

"Oh, there are still enough to last for another 35 years," Choon said. "And, if it comes to that, pine oil can be produced synthetically."

Choon, 51, is pleasant and soft-spoken. He bears no outward resemblance to the high-pressure, bustling type of go-getter. He believes two factors explain his own business success:

"First, you can always get a following if you are careful to do for people anything you've promised them you'll do."

"Second, practical experience is better than any other kind. Nothing can take its place."

Toughening American Youth

By George Sokolsky

In two separate areas the subject is being widely discussed that our youth has grown soft. Sociologists are deeply concerned over the increase in juvenile delinquency which is indicative of a lowering of moral standards.

Military authorities are studying the moral weakness of many of our soldiers in the Korean war.

No one can have all the correct answers for what seems to be a trend. For instance, vandalism in the New York schools and parks is too widespread to be ignored. Obviously there is a lack of respect for authority and for property. To what is this lack of respect to be attributed? It is not accidental because it is becoming too usual. It must be in the training, in the education, in the homelife of these children. Perhaps it is due to a total lack of ideals.

Hanson Baldwin, the military expert, once wrote a significant paragraph on this subject, referring to World War II:

"Perhaps this deficiency in determination reflects the changing spirit of our nation — the substitution of easy living for a pioneer psychology; the weakening virus of 'work less and make more'; the substitution of collective security for individual initiative. Perhaps it reflects the failure of our way of life to dramatize itself in terms of values worth fighting for — our boys fought for 'blueberry pie' and the right to go home. The Japs fought for a Shinto Valhalla — death in battle meant life in heaven. The Germans died the death of martyrdom — a Wagnerian end — to perpetuate 1000 years of Hitlerian rule. The Russians fought for their motherland and died with some of the Oriental fatalism so peculiar to the eyes of the West."

And then he said: "...most of our boys fought because they were drafted and had to fight; they did no more than they had to do. They were not cowards in a collective sense; rather, they fought for no positive goal, but for a negative fear of the opinion of their fellow men."

Positive goals are ideals, lofty spiritual factors which negate the selfish criteria which usually motivate men's actions. Human beings form most of their ideals around the core of religion or nationalism. Religion includes a moral concept of life, often referred to broadly as the natural law. Whether one believes in a religion which insists that God revealed the moral requisites of a good life to man, or in a religion which accepts morality as an evolution in civilization, it is these aspects of religion that set the ideals of a generation.

Morality is based upon respect and responsibility. If parents are not respected, the household is anarchistic; if teachers are not respected, the school suffers from vandalism; if the clergy are not respected, murder, rape and every indecency will increase. If property is not respected, waste and degeneration set in.

Nationalism is another phase of this problem. The man who does not respect his country's flag cannot respect its laws, its customs, its traditions. He may not become a traitor, possibly because he is also a coward, but he will not place the glory of his country above his small private interests. He laughs at those who shed a tear on Memorial Day; he manages to keep out of the military services just as he manages everything in life from a strictly personal standpoint. I would say that the moral effect of the recent FHA disclosures was devastating because it shows that come good times or bad, Old Deal or New Deal, there are always smart guys who know the angles, can hire lawyers to help them to get away with anything. And young people wonder what they can get away with.

It is for this reason that I have been advocating the opening of all public gatherings, concerts, baseball, football and basketball games, and all sorts of meetings with the playing of "The Star-Spangled Banner," in peace as well as war. It provides a moment to think of nation instead of self, to stand at attention for something bigger than self. It gives pause for a little humility, a quality of which we are quite deficient.

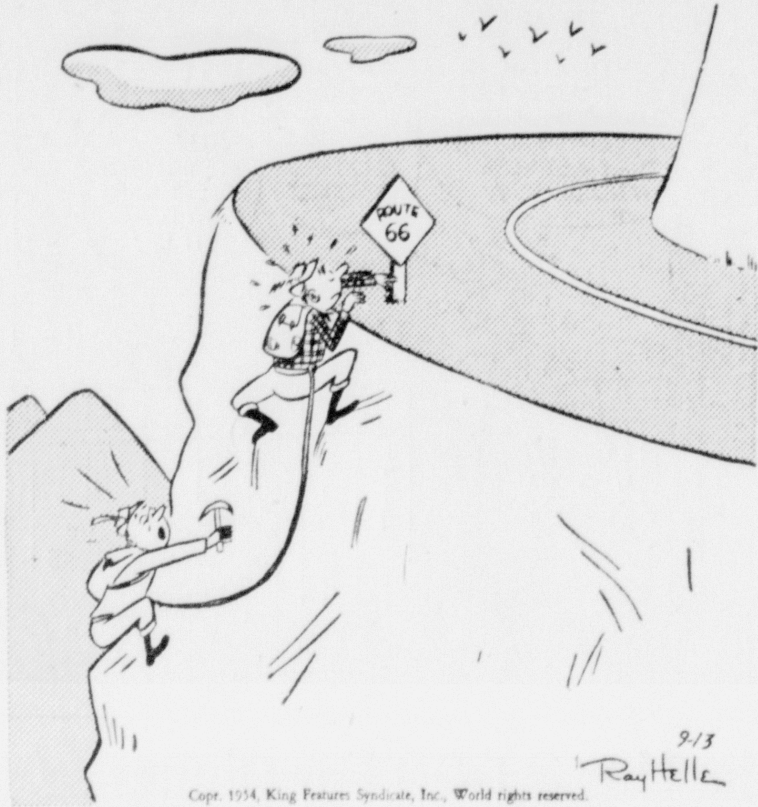

No nation has long sustained the worship of a man. Napoleon, Hitler, Stalin, Mussolini — they went their various ways into the history books. But the ideals of religion and nationalism have shown durability even in times of confusion.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Polyps are growths that do not occur spontaneously but rather occur from persistent irritations or allergic diseases. They happen frequently in people with hay fever or seasonal allergies.

These little growths, if found within the nose, sometimes become so large that they cause an obstruction in breathing. The person cannot smell properly and has a constant dripping from the nose. Sneezing and headache are common symptoms.

Tendency to Recur

A physician, by a simple examination of the nose, can usually see if polyps are present. One difficulty in their treatment is their tendency to recur, even after removal. This occurs because the underlying cause is often inadequately treated.

An effort should be made to find the cause of the polyps. This may be done by means of skin allergy tests of various pollens, molds, dust or food.

Chronic Sinus

Once the cause is found, desensitization can be started. If a persistent and chronic sinus difficulty is at fault, it too must be cleared up.

The antihistamine drugs and cortisone can prevent recurrence of these allergic growths. In many instances, the polyps will have to be removed surgically.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

L. H.: I am a 19-year-old girl who has difficulty in hearing. I have had my ears tested and they were found to have adequate hearing. Can you help me with this problem, as I have trouble at work?

Answer: It can be that your difficulty is in failure to pay attention. Sometimes lack of concentration will give the same signs as a hearing defect.

City Officials Replying To Jury Report

COLUMBUS (AP)—While state officials hold their fire, Columbus brass have struck back at a Franklin County grand jury report, issued Friday, which blasted in two directions: At the state liquor department and at Columbus City Hall.

The report recommended replacement of State Liquor Director Anthony A. Rutkowski, denouncing "practices of the department of liquor control" under Rutkowski. The jury laid on City Hall's doorstep charges of "wide open" gambling in at least four Columbus spots and said "public relations" fund contributions to Mayor M. E. Sensesbrenner invited "pay-offs from gamblers."

Contacted in Cleveland, Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who previously has voiced confidence in Rutkowski, said he will not comment until he has read the grand jury report to "see what it contains."

But Mayor Sensesbrenner loosed a countercharge of "political smear," saying gambling in Columbus recently "has been at the lowest ebb" in 20 years.

The first Democratic mayor the Ohio capital city has had in 20-odd years said a few minor incidents have been magnified to give the appearance of "a vicious gambling situation in Columbus."

Columbus Police Chief George W. Scholer, in a separate statement, said he was "aware that gambling was going on at these four places, and they were being checked. However, the vice squad never found any conclusive evidence of gambling going on."

He said he is considering "additional legislation to further control nuisance gambling spots."

Churchill Plotting For Peace

By Ray Tucker

LONDON — Winston Churchill is today the most daring diplomatic juggler in recent international history, baffling both friends and enemies. Although his methods irritate Americans, French and Germans, from Pennsylvania Avenue to Berlin's Wilhelmstrasse, it is generally agreed that the "Old Man" seeks to establish a measure of world peace before he names Anthony Eden as his successor next year.

Here are the principal planks in the Churchill-Eden foreign policy, since the French Parliament's expected rejection of the European Defense Community Treaty has inspired bolder cries in Berlin for striking of the 1945 surrender shackles, including the Allied ban on the right to re-arm.

1. Churchill wants to continue the Anglo-American alliance, although other parts of his program run counter to Eisenhower-Dulles objectives.

2. He wants France to join a European Defense Community that will include Germany. In view of future French recalcitrancy, and although he dislikes the prospect even more than Washington does, he will seek procedure for rearming the Germans that will not drive the French into the arms of Moscow.

"shooting" wars, leads to the Third, which, to Americans is the most bewildering aspect of Churchill's current diplomatic maneuvers.

GERMANS FEARED — Although he may not admit it, like the politicians in Paris, he, too, fears the Germans more than the Russians. His understudy, Anthony Eden, is even more skeptical of the German peoples' conversion to the Anglo-American brand of democracy.

Therefore, they want another full-dress try at a rapprochement with Russia, even in the face of allied diplomatic defeats over Korea and Indochina. Like F.D.R., Churchill has the utmost confidence in his face-to-face charm and negotiating ability.

Many conservatives here assailed the Moscow and Peiping visits of the prominent Laborites, including former Prime minister Clement Attlee and former Labor Cabinet member Aneurin Bevan, who is so anti-American that he is pro-Moscow.

They quote and reprint savage attacks on the junket by leading American newspapers—the New York Times, Herald-Tribune, Baltimore Sun and Chicago Tribune. They are amazed at Sen. Joe McCarthy's failure to denounce this and similar overtures to the Reds.

ATTLEE—But the fact is that Attlee would not have gone so deep behind the "Iron Curtain" without Churchill's full but private approval. He went as the prime minister's confidential emissary, to ascertain possibilities for full renewal of commercial and political relations. London needs trade—markets for her finished goods in return for food, lumber etc., as well as assurance of peace in this atomic age.

Finally, Attlee journeyed to Peiping to keep an eye and check on the more radical Bevan, his rival for leadership of the Labor Party and a bitter foe of Churchill. From these authentic revelations, it becomes clear that there is a closer working relationship and understanding between Churchill and the leader of Her Majesty's opposition than most Americans realize.

Britishers have the same kindly feeling for austere, professional Attlee that Americans have for jovial, backslapping Harry S. Truman, and for the same reasons. Each typifies certain dominant national oddities and characteristics.

In answer to American recidivism of Attlee's Far Eastern tour, a high British official remarked wryly:

"If you Americans fear that Attlee will be taken in by Chou-En Lai's smiles, any phony offers of trade or Oriental dancing girls, you don't know Clem!"

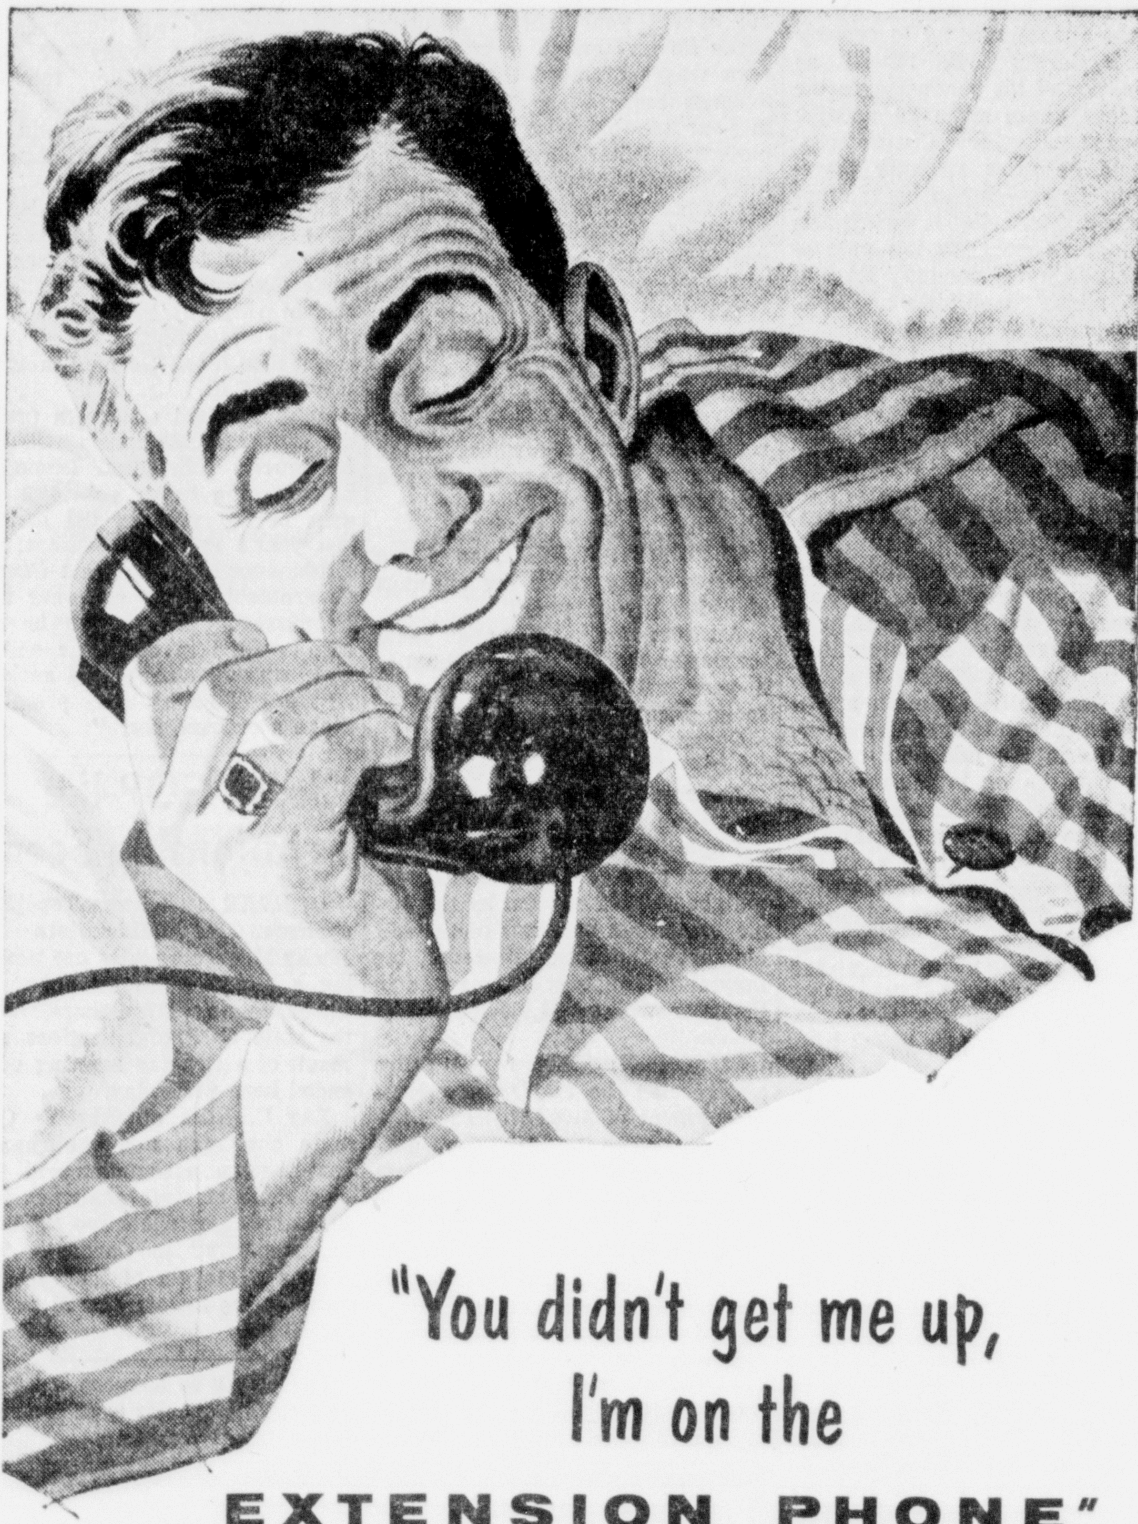

PEACE — These attitudes and developments represent the viewpoint of British Tories, Laborites and Socialists, save for a few extremists in each camp, they reflect a deep yearning for peace if it can be obtained without defeat, dishonor or a Munich-like appeasement.

They suggest that Britain may present almost as many difficulties and perplexities as France in forthcoming attempts to salvage and strengthen the anti-Communist alliance.

For the U. S. it may mean heavier military commitments and over greater expenditures overseas.

From 1949 to 1953, there were 29 fatal boxing injuries in the United States.

Southwestern Ohio May Get Newest State Reformatory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — M. C. Koblentz, chief of the State Division of Corrections, is considering Ohio's need for another reformatory. It would be situated in the southwestern part of the state.

He says despite the state's program of building new institutions there still will be overcrowding unless the state has two reformatories.

In about 18 months the Marion Training School will be ready. It will become a reformatory and handle 1,500 inmates. The present Mansfield reformatory will become a prison. But Ohio's population is rising, and the number of people sent to prison or the reformatory becomes greater year after year.

This means, Koblentz says, that there is doubt Ohio will have enough prison buildings even after the training school is finished.

Building another reformatory would give the state enough prison buildings to handle present and foreseeable future prison populations, he believes. The reformatory and training school would provide from 2,500 to 3,000 more beds for prisoners.

Before the war, Ohio's prison population was 8,200. It dwindled to 6,600 by the time the war ended, increased to 8,200 right after the war and reached an all-time high of 9,971 last July. Koblentz sees no leveling-off in sight.

Ohio Penitentiary now has about 5,000 prisoners. It was designed to handle 2,500 but Koblentz says it can care for 3,000 comfortably. Mansfield reformatory is overcrowded by about 600 now.

Koblentz says the increase in prison populations is nationwide, and some other states are taking steps to meet it. The net gain in Ohio for the last few years has been 300 a year.

Why another reformatory? Why not another prison? Koblentz says a reformatory is needed because persons under 21 years old are responsible for most of the increase in crime against property — auto thefts, burglaries and the like.

He emphasized that he doesn't favor a continuous building program because he believes the state's program to rehabilitate prisoners and persons on parole eventually will level off the prison population.

But before the rehabilitation program can function effectively more buildings are needed.

"The two go hand in hand," he said. "Eventually we will put into operation a prisoner classification and reception center. But we have to have places to send the various types of prisoners before that can begin. Maybe we'll have to delay it until we get another reformatory."

Under the plan hardened criminals would be separated from persons in trouble for the first time. This would let prison officials give more individual counseling to prisoners, and reduce the number of men who land in prison a second time, Koblentz said.

Part of the overall fight against increasing prison populations is the expanded parole officer program. Recently Koblentz was permitted to expand the force of parole officers to 50 and soon will have 55 officers working with 4,000 persons on parole.

"We don't plan to reduce the work load of the parole officer so low that he'll be 'hounding' men on parole, but we want him to be able to spend more time with each man on parole. The more help we can give these men the fewer will land back in prison," says Koblentz.

State President To Visit Aerie

Big Plans Made For Eagles Here

Cecil G. Butts, the state president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, is to be the honor guest of Fayette Aerie here Tuesday evening.

Cecil G. Butts

In making the announcement of the forthcoming visit of the highest officer of the lodge in the state, Charles Osborne, the aerie secretary, said of President Butts: "He has gone a long way in Eagle-dom. . . he worked his way up to the presidency and is highly respected for it."

The secretary said efforts have been made to greet the state president with a big turnout and added that the word has been spread around to all members of the aerie to be there.

Officers of the lodge here have expressed the hope that this will be one of the biggest meetings ever held by the aerie.

The formal meeting is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock and after that a full evening of entertainment and fraternal fellowship has been planned the secretary said.

There was no indication of what was on the agenda for discussion at the formal meeting. Neither were any of the details of the arrangements for the lighter side of the evening announced.

When Baby Comes, Family Needs 25 Pct. Income Hike

ROME (AP) — When baby comes, an expert said here today, it takes a 25 per cent raise in income for the family to maintain its accustomed standard of living.

Erland V. Hofsten, of the Stockholm Social Welfare Board told 500 scientists at the United Nations conference on population that junior's cost starts lower, but rises steadily past that mark as the child grows older.

Despite the cost, however, another report indicated the average wife still wants children. Prof. Jean Stotzel of France's University of Bordeaux, said his survey showed relatively few wives want no children or only one. Most want three.

Dr. Hofsten told the experts from 70 nations his statistics on the cost of children do not include the value of the time parents must devote to their actual care.

This, he said, diminishes from 1,200 hours a year when the child is one year old, to 1,100 when the child is over two, and 475 hours, when the child is for.

It also does not count wear and tear on the household and its furnishings, which for one child he placed as averaging about 15 per cent of the family's total.

Dr. Hofsten also cautioned that although a considerable increase in income will be needed to meet the costs of a child, most families do not receive it, and may have to lower their living standards.

Boy, 14, Is Held For Slaying Stepdad

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 14-year-old Boy Scout is held at Juvenile Hall today on suspicion of murdering his stepfather.

Police said Larry Imler, a Scout patrol leader, fired five shots from a .22 rifle at Irven Woodrow Loucks, 40, a truckdriver, after a quarrel between Loucks and Larry's mother. The mother said Loucks pulled her out of a truck by her hair. He had been drinking, she said.

"I didn't mean to kill him," of-ficers quoted the boy. "I only wanted to scare him."

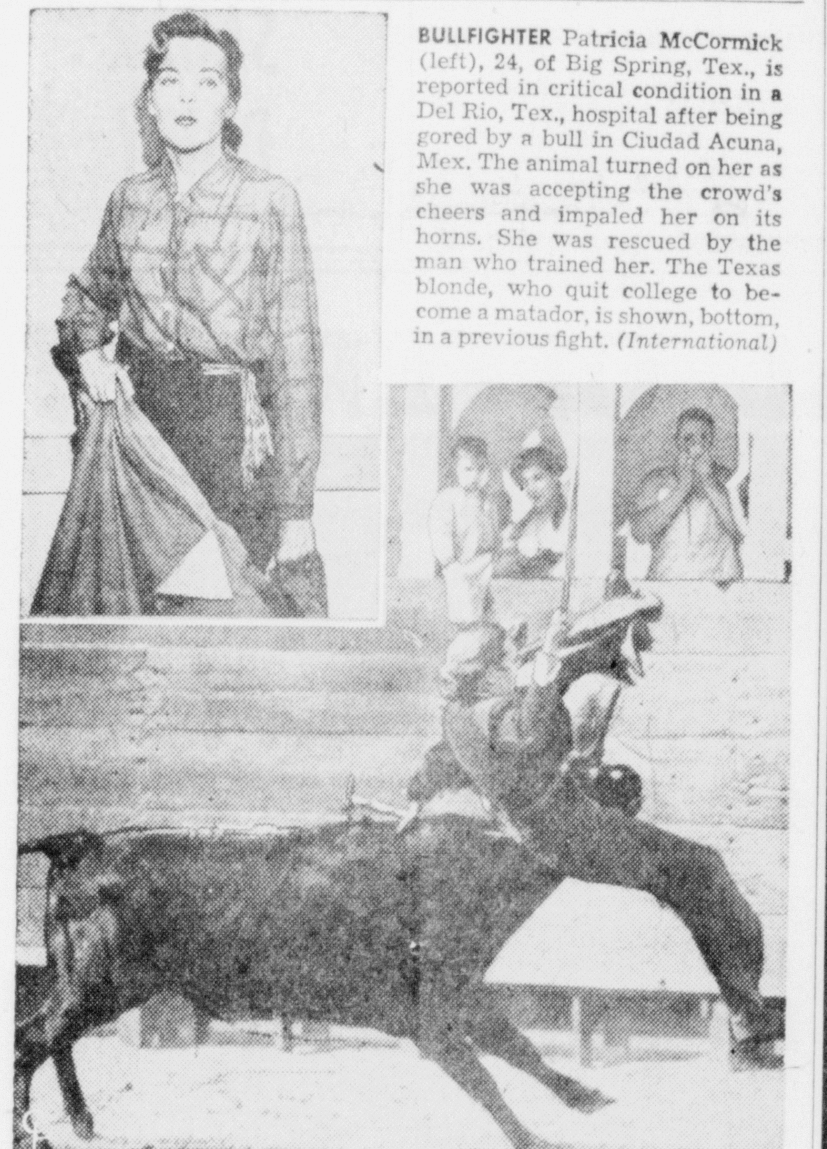

Mrs. Loucks, mother of 13 — including three by Loucks — said the argument was over who was going to pick up nine children at a birthday party.

Tribe Sets Up Huge Hurdle For Yankees

Doubleheader Victory Over Champions Gives New Yorkers Headache

By The Associated Press

It would be ridiculous to accuse the five-time world champion New York Yankees of "choking up."

It must be gratifying to the long-suffering Cleveland faithful, however, today to check back during the past few days and discover that it was the proud Yankees, and not the maligned Indians, who lost seven of their last 10 clutch games.

And in the same period, the Indians lost only two out of 10 to pick up five big games on the weary world champions.

If ever there had been any doubts about Cleveland's intestinal fortitude, the American League leaders dispelled them yesterday with a glorious double triumph over New York that all but ended the long Yankee dynasty. The 4-1 and 3-2 victories before 86,563 spectators, the largest crowd ever to watch a baseball game, stretched Cleveland's first place margin over the Yankees to 8½ lengths. That is almost an insurmountable hurdle for Casey Stengel's crew. With only 10 games left, the Indians can clinch their first flag since 1948 by merely winning three, even if the Yankees win all their remaining 11.

All was not rosy for the Cleveland's springtime sparring partners, the New York Giants, however. Continuing the lack-luster play that has marked their recent performances, the Giants were beaten 4-3 by St. Louis and had their National League lead sliced to three games when the rebounding Brooklyn Dodgers came through with a 4-2 and 4-3 doubleheader sweep over the Chicago Cubs.

Milwaukee's Braves, still in the running despite two recent losses to the Dodgers, drew to within 4½ games of the top by earning a split with the Phillies in Philadelphia.

Lew Burdette outpitched Robin Roberts for a 2-1 Braves' victory after the Phillies had snapped Warren Spahn's 11-game victory string 5-2. Cincinnati's Redlegs climbed into fourth place, drubbing the Pittsburgh Pirates twice 11-5 and 13-2 as Ted Kluszewski drove in nine runs and smashed homers Nos. 47 and 48.

The Chicago White Sox, paced by Nellie Fox and Minnie Minoso, vanquished the Boston Red Sox twice 5-3 and 7-5 to reach, and pass, the 90 victory mark for the first time since 1920. Fox produced three hits including a two-run double. He also stole three bases, including home, to help Bob Keegan post his 16th triumph in the opener. Minoso, ejected from the first game came back to drive in four runs in the nightcap with a home run and double.

Detroit routed Washington twice 5-0 and 8-3 to sweep past Boston into fourth place. Steve Gromek registered his 17th victory with a six-hit shutout and sore-armed Ted Gray won his first game since May 12. Harvey Kuenn rapped out five Tiger hits, drove in two and scored twice.

The battle for last place in the American League resulted a stalemate as basement-tied Baltimore and Philadelphia divided a pair. The Orioles won the opener 4-3, scoring all their runs in the seventh for Bob Turley's 12th win. Eddie Waitkus' pinch single drove in the tying and winning runs. The Athletics took the second 5-4, scoring the winning run in the ninth when Howie Fox walked Spook Jacobs with the bases loaded.

Cleveland's 86,563 fans, with 84,587 paid, cheered themselves hoarse over the Indians' double win that gave them a season split of 11-11 against the Yankees. Al Rosen's two-run double in the seventh off Allie Reynolds broke up a 1-1 deadlock in the opener as Bob Lemon went on to register his 22nd victory.

Early Wynn struck out 12 Yankees including Enos Slaughter, Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra in the ninth as he outpitched Tommy Byrne for his 21st triumph. Wynn allowed three hits including Berra's first inning homer with a man on base.

Stan Musial and Harvey Haddix combined to beat the Giants. Musial batted in three runs with a single and his 35th homer. Haddix gained his 17th victory although he needed help in the ninth. The

WHS Alumni Defeats Lions But They Still Look Good

Lions past and Lions present mixed it up on the Gardner Park football field Saturday night.

The occasion was a scrimmage between this year's WHS football squad and a team made up of alumni who played here in previous years.

Most of the alumni were members of the miracle team of 1951, which rolled up a fabulous record during their unbeaten and untied season.

The alumni showed that the years hadn't dimmed their scoring punch but slightly. They crossed the WHS line five times and scored three points after touchdown.

The alumni fielded a rock-ribbed defense too. The WHS team never got inside the alumni's 10-yard line and was able to cross the 20 only twice.

The only statistics giving this year's squad an even break were the first downs. Each team piled up six.

Offensive standout for the alumni was Bob Alkire, who ran the ball over for two touchdowns and passed to Williams, Marting and Rettig for the other three scores. Alkire also kicked three extra points.

Alkire, with Carl Smith, Neal Childress and Charlie Holbrook, was a member of the great Lion backfield of 1951. He is currently on the Wilmington College football squad.

COACH SHAW wasn't a bit discouraged.

"Our boys looked good," he said after the game. "We won't run up against competition like that all year. One of those boys goes to the University of Kentucky, another for Harvard, and three more for Wilmington College."

Shaw explained that he kept five of his top boys, Mickey, Dick, Anders, Sheets, Griffith and Schleicher out of the game since they all had minor injuries.

Lions had the tying run on base and one out in the ninth when Brooks Lawrence came in and retired the side by fanning Alvin Dark and disposing of Hank Thompson on an infield grounder.

Carl Furillo drove in the winning runs in both Brooklyn victories. He doubled in two runs in the opener and broke up the second game with a bases-loaded, two-out single off Warren Hacker in the 14th inning.

Dick Waters, captain of the 1951 team and now at the University of Kentucky, was enthusiastic about the potentialities of the WHS boys too.

"It looks like they'll have a pretty good team," he said after the game. "They've got a good line and they play well together."

The scrimmage was run to approximate actual game conditions as closely as possible. Opening

Jeffersonville Beats Good Hope

Milledgeville Wins From Mt. Sterling

Except for the fourth inning, it was a pretty good baseball game that the Jeffersonville team won from the Good Hope boys Sunday afternoon at Jeffersonville by the lop-sided score of 11 to 0.

After two scoreless frames, the Jeffersonvillians scored 2 in the third to open up the game. While the home boys had a lead, it was not so big it could not have been overcome.

But in the next inning, the roof fell in on the visitors.

Combining singles and doubles with some of the 8 Good Hope errors, the Jeffersonvillians tallied 7 runs to break the spirit of the invaders and put the game on ice. They added two more runs, but they didn't need them.

BUCKY DUMFORD was the complete master of the Good Hope outfit—with one exception. He just could not handle Second Baseman Hill, who got a single, a double and a triple in four trips to the plate. The only other Good Hoper to connect safely was Dale Daves. Bucky fanned 15 and did not give up a single base on balls.

This game wound up the season for Jeffersonville and brought the league championship to the hothead of baseball in the northern section of the county.

The season also came to an end for the Mt. Sterling team which was nosed out, 9 to 8, by Milledgeville aggregation Sunday.

Only one game of the regular schedule remains—a playoff of the Good Hope-Milledgeville game that was rained out about a month ago. Barring any now unforeseen complications it will be played next Sunday.

Association Teams Set For Playoffs

COLUMBUS (P)—American Association teams warmed up for the playoffs yesterday with the two top teams in the league absorbing defeats.

Fifth-place St. Paul edged champion Indianapolis, 5-4, and second-place Louisville dropped its finale to fourth-place Columbus, 4-2. Minneapolis, the other play-off team, defeated Kansas City, 3-0.

In a night game, Toledo, scoring six runs in the first three innings, beat last-place Charleston, 7-5.

The playoffs open tomorrow with Columbus opposing Louisville and Minneapolis tackling pennant-winning Indianapolis.

kick-offs were ruled out, since WHS Coach Bob Shaw thought they presented too much danger of injury. Otherwise, though, the scrimmage followed game practice closely.

Starters for WHS were Jim Mason and Lyle Self, ends Jim Newland and Jim Woods, tackles; Mickey Milstead and John Sommers, guards; Bob Dunton, center; Ronny Meyer, quarterback; Fred Cahall and Bob Hunter, halfbacks, and John Grooms at fullback.

The alumni starters were Jack Rettig and Dick Benson, ends, Merrill Kaufman and Walter Plymale, tackles, Glenn Milstead and Dick Waters, guards, Joe Provost, center, Bob Alkire, quarterback, Jim Williams and Jerry Speakman, halfbacks and Sam Marting, fullback.

Coach Shaw, trying to give his many green reserves a taste of experience, used more than 30 boys in the scrimmage. None was hurt.

Lopez Chalks 'Finest Day' In Baseball

CLEVELAND (P)—In the Cleveland Indians' dressing room, Manager Al Lopez called yesterday "my finest day in baseball," and he has been in it 30 years.

Around the curve of Municipal Stadium, Casey Stengel locked the clubhouse door of the New York Yankees whose five-year reign as American League champs is near an end. No interviews.

Major league baseball's biggest crowd (the 86,563 who saw the Tribe humble the Yanks 4-1 and 3-2) probably would agree today that the reactions of Senor Lopez and Old Case were about right.

Mathematically, the Yanks can't be eliminated before Wednesday afternoon, and it's more likely to happen Friday or Saturday. But only a miracle could prevent it—a miracle such as the Indians losing eight of their remaining 10 games, while the Yanks win all 11 they have left.

Lopez, pilot of three Indian runners up to the world champion Yankees, had more to say about his "finest day."

"Guess I'll have to admit now that things are looking pretty good," he understated.

"You'll have to go a long way to see two better ball games—and what a crowd."

The huge crowd, not as noisy as some half the size, watched a display of toponotch pitching by Cleveland's Bob Lemon and Early Wynn. Together, Lemon and Wynn gave the once-mighty Bombers only nine hits in 18 innings, including two bunts and an infield scratch.

Lemon crushed the Tribe's hopes of gaining on the Tribe by winning the opener 4-1 on a six-bitter that increased his major league leading victory total to 22 against six losses.

Wynn poured it on the downcast New Yorkers with the 3-2 three-hitter in the second game and struck out 12, whiffing the side in order in the ninth. Wynn now has won 21 and lost 11.

Truitt Is Golf Champion Of Country Club After Beating Buxton in Final

Frank Truitt is the new golf champion of the Country Club here.

He took the crown Saturday when he defeated Charles Buxton, 6 and 5, in their 36-hole final match Saturday afternoon.

The new champ shot a sizzling 74 on the first 18 holes in the morning to take a 2 up lead over Buxton who turned in a 75 in the tap and tuck match.

Back from lunch, Truitt was forced to shoot a one-under-par 35 on the third nine to take a 4 up lead at the end of 27 holes because Buxton was right on his heels with a par 36.

The match was decided on the first three holes of the fourth round, when Truitt took two of them and halved the other.

On the way to the top, Truitt beat Ed Vollette, 6 and 5, Dick Korn 4 and 3, and dethroned last year's champion, 2 and 1.

Whether Truitt will be around next summer to defend his title is conjectural. He has been the coach at Bloomingburg High School for the last four years, but is now at Mt. Gilead in a similar position with the high school there.

Saturday, incidentally, was Buxton's birthday.

AFTER TRAILING 3 down at the end of the first nine holes, Bill McLean came back with a stout finish to defeat H. F. Schlue, 3 and 2, to win the first flight title of the tournament.

John Petty won the second flight and Bob Lisk the third flight of the championship tournament which started nearly two months ago with a big field that had to be whittled down through the regular processes of elimination matches.

Bud Dawson, who will be a junior at Ohio University this fall, took the championship of the A division of the handicap tournament which started almost as soon as the frost was out of the ground last spring and continued until mid-summer.

Howard Miller took the B division of the handicap tournament.

In the women's golf, Mrs. Charles Buxton holds the championship Mrs. Ralph Bray is the first flight champion and Mrs. John Petty is the handicap champion.

Of all the tournaments, there is only one still unfinished—it is the vne for the Sabina handicap championship in which John Petty and Harry Brown will meet in the finals.

All tournament winners will receive trophies.

Redlegs Regain 4th Place As Pirates Flop

PITTSBURGH (P)—Cincinnati is in fourth place today because of the booming bat of Ted Kluszewski, steady pitching by Joe Nuxhall and the surprise control of rookie Jerry Lane.

The Reds, who meet the Pittsburgh Pirates for the last time tonight, thumped the Pirates 11-5 and 13-2 for a doubleheader victory.

Klu blasted two three-run homers and a single in the first game and tapped three singles in the nightcap. His home run total for the season rose to 48 and the nine runs batted in during the day brought his RBI figure to 132. He leads the major leagues in both departments.

His RBI mark passed the Red record of 129 set by Frank McCormick of the 1939 Reds. However, big Ted is far from the major record of 190, set by Hack Wilson of the Chicago Cubs in 1930.

The Pittsburgh pitching was not hard to solve. The Reds got 16 safeties in the first game and came back for 15 in the second.

Nuxhall, the Hamilton, Ohio, lefthander, picked up his 10th victory in 14 decisions in going the route in the opener. He allowed only one Pirate to reach third base in the first six frames. With two out in the seventh, the Pirates scored one run on a single and a double. He gave up five of his nine hits and four runs when he weakened in the ninth.

The 26-year-old pitcher also was effective at bat, knocking in two runs with his third homer of the season and a single.

Pitching chores in the second contest were handled by a man two years Nuxhall's senior but without Joe's experience.

Lane, a former Washington Senators farmhand purchased by the Reds from Chattanooga, was brought into the game in the first inning after starter Fred Baczewski issued three walks. He permitted only six hits in the next seven innings. Birdie Tebbetts asked another rookie, Cliff Ross, to finish.

Trailer Strike Ends

LORAIN (P)—The 1,600 production employees of Fruehauf Trailer Co. have ratified a contract which ended a three-day strike. Officials of the AFL United Auto Workers said the pact provides 7½ cents more money hourly in addition to 4½ cents in other benefits. The pay scale was not available.

What with all the pushing around parents have been getting in recent years, it was an encouraging surprise to hear about the conclusions of a mental health congress held in Toronto, Canada. A group of psychologists and psychiatrists got together to kick around a few old phobias and neuroses. But in the course of getting on each other's nerves, they admitted maybe Mom and Pop know more about raising children than many of the "experts" do.

One professor said, "Parents might be better employed playing with their children in the backyard than attending lectures by a psychiatrist." This sounds like a radical admission these days. May be the best guide for raising children after all. Looks like parents are becoming people.

Tried out my new "spinner" reel and rod today. When I got it out the guide said "you had better throw that thing away." The first good fish I hooked was a 4 1/2 lb. bass. Away he went under a fallen tree and from there under a rock. But I still landed him. Then I got a couple of 2 1/2 pounders. Then I asked the guide if I should still throw the outfit in the lake? He had no answer.

We are really enjoying ourselves and catching a lot of fish. Wish you were here.

When Indianapolis police found a two-foot blackjack in a fellow's car, he told them he used it for tamping earth in his flower garden. Probably raises black-eyed Susans. One kind of "jack" you have to be sure to carry in your car if your tires are wearing down is the kind you use to change a tire. A better answer, though, is to trade in those dangerous old tires for a set of safe, quicker stopping tires from R. Grade Schools Change Reports

Teachers To Grade Pupils' Attitudes

Elementary schools in Washington C. H. are going to be grading pupils on a double-standard beginning this year. It is designed to give parents a better report on the behavior of their children.

The boys and girls will be graded not only on the three Rs but also on a ten-point evaluation of their habits and attitudes. The new grades will range from "excellent" through "satisfactory" to "need improvement" and "unsatisfactory."

The ten points to be graded are courtesy, use of time, respect for the rights of others, following of directions, neatness, co-operation, respect for authority, ability to assume responsibility, health habits and respect for school property.

The new system is the result of studies made by a committee set up two years ago to study report cards used all over the country. At that time the committee did not make final report.

Soon after Supt. W. A. Smith took over supervision of the school system here, the committee resumed its work. Discussions were held with parents to find out what they would like to know in addition to the conventional grades in school subjects.

THE COMMITTEE included five teachers and nine parents. Teachers were Miss Opal Davids, chairman, and Mrs. Virginia Whiteside, Mrs. Dorothy Crone, Mrs. Mary Gillespie and Mrs. Versa Angus.

Parents serving on the committee were Mrs. Robert Woodmansee, Mrs. Paul Dougherty, Mrs. Charles M. Griffith, Mrs. Manford Lemaster, Mrs. Emmett Backenstoe, Mrs. Lee Alderman, Mrs. Thurman Coulter, Eldon Armbrust and Lloyd Sowders.

All five school districts here were represented.

Supt. Smith, in a note to parents that will be printed on the back of the new report card, said: "The responsibility for training the child in good habits and attitudes so that he may become a good citizen must be shared by the home and school. At school we are trying to direct the growth of your child so that he may live wholesomely and effectively as an individual and as a member of a democratic group. Democracy is a way of living that demands the highest physical, emotional,
